HURRICANE IRMA DAMAGE ASSESSMENT NUMBERS

Orlando, FL – Rick Singh, Orange County Property Appraiser, and members of his field appraisal team were out yesterday to assess damage to Orange County neighborhoods caused by Hurricane Irma.

Many teams were dispatched to residential areas to survey damage from the storm. There were other teams focused on Tangible Personal Property (TPP), as well as commercial properties. As a result of their efforts, the approximate initial findings are $24,866,775. This number is expected to increase as commercial properties, and other residents report damage throughout the week.

Within that opening assessment, our appraisers have surveyed 1,982 properties, which include homes, businesses, mobile home parks, apartment complexes, and more.

If you have any questions about the value of damage to your property caused by Hurricane Irma, please call (407) 836-5044. As a reminder, our office values property one year in arrears, therefore values will not necessarily be reflected in this year's assessment.
